Remodeling the Adams Center

The new Adams Center included a new food court and a fitness center. The food court includes a Chick-fil-A, Sub Connection, Freshens yogurt, coffee and bakery, and Market Place. The new student fitness center comes complete with free weights, weight machines and an aerobics room.

Construction began mid-June 1999 and was completed in Fall 1999. Many students have been excited about the new changes to the Adams Center.

Construction workers work hard to complete the renovations to the Adams Center.

TSU asks for people to "Please excuse our mess" as the remodeling is almost done.

The finished product is as beautiful as before renovations began.

Many community members, TSU students, staff and faculty show up for the Grand Opening of the new additions to the Adams Center.

Food, Food, Food

Troy State had a new addition to the Adams Center during Fall 1999. The addition consisted of a Freshens yogurt, Chick-fil-A, a coffee shop, sandwich shop and a buffet-style restaurant. The name of the new food court is the Trojan Express.

Troy State got their own Chick-fil-A Fall 1999.

Many faculty, students and community members came out for the grand opening of the Trojan Express.

Chancellor Jack Hawkins Jr. makes a new friend, the Chick-fil-A cow.

The Trojan Express also allows TSU students to surf the 'Net while they enjoy their meal.

Words from the Wise

Whether they come to Troy State to promote awareness or to encourage support, TSU has become a welcome sight for guest speakers. Past guest speakers have ranged from Katie Koestner to Hank Aaron.

1999-2000 was also a busy year for guest speakers. Gov. Don Siegelman visited Troy State to discuss his proposed lottery. Fredric K. Schroeder was the speaker for the Sixth Annual Helen Keller Lecture. All of the guest speakers showed care and love toward Troy State. All were proud to visit and have the opportunity to speak to all Trojans.

A Century Celebration Homecoming 1999

As the end of the century approached, Troy State decided to celebrate the many different fashions, dance moves, music and entertainment from the past 100 years. What better time to have this Century Celebration than Homecoming? Skit Night kicked off Homecoming week. Then TSU celebrated the '50s decade with a dance competition. The next day students held a protest rally in honor of the '60s and '70s decades. To celebrate the '80s, karaoke was held. All participants got a chance to sing to their favorite '80s song. For the '90s a pep rally was held for the TSU football team. Mary Beth Morris was announced as the 1999 Homecoming Queen. Homecoming Week concluded with the presentation of the Queen and her court, a halftime performance by the Sound of the South Alumni band and a TSU victory over Sam Houston.

Overall winners in the men's division were first place, Farmhouse; second place, Lambda Chi; and third place, Sigma Chi. In the women's division it was Alpha Gamma Delta in first place, Phi Mu in second and Kappa Delta in third. In the coed division, Sound of the South took first place, Freshman Forum was second and Baptist Campus Ministries was third. Hillcrest women's took first, Hamil took second and Cowart took third in the Residence Halls division.

The Queen and

To receive a title as Homecoming Queen is an honor. The queen is nominated by an organization or group and is then voted on by the student body.

This year's Homecoming Queen was senior Mary Beth Morris. Pi Kappa Phi had the honor to sponsor and nominate Morris for Homecoming Queen. Morris, from Bossier City, La., is a senior history major.

The Homecoming Court was also nominated by an organization or group and voted on by the students of Troy State.

The Homecoming Court for 1999-2000 included Temeka Robinson, who was sponsored by Alpha Phi Alpha. Amanda Sellers was sponsored by Phi Mu. Alpha Kappa Alpha sponsored Thomi Jones and Andrea Nicole Lee was sponsored by the Trojan All-Stars.

Filling the Void

Due to construction on Smith Hall, movies were not a regular event during fall semester. ACUB, however, did several things to fill the void. ACUB began sponsoring concerts, games, all-day events and guest experts. ACUB also showed the occasional movie in the Adams Center Theater.

Scott Lee, billiards expert, visited Troy State to show off some of the pool shots he has mastered.

Music group Allure puts on a concert for Troy State. Allure was invited to come to TSU by ACUB.

Human Foosball was one of the many games that ACUB helped sponsor.

A New Look

Renovations to Smith Hall began in June 1999 and were completed in January. Improvements to the building include a new facade and roof. The theater in Smith Hall also had renovations.

Claudia Crosby made a donation of $1 million to be used to renovate the theater, now named in her honor. Claudia Crosby Theater seats 928 and has enhanced access and seating for handicapped visitors. New carpet and decorative walls were also a part of the renovations. State-of-the-art sound, lighting and stage-rigging systems were also added. Renovations to the backstage include a new "green room" for performers. The lobby even got a few repairs. Television-stage monitors were added to the new formal lobby.

The lobby of Claudia Crosby Theater has a more formal look due to renovations.

Another addition to Claudia Crosby Theater was a bigger screen for movies.

A new roof was added to Smith Hall.

A new facade was added to unify Smith Hall architecturally with the other buildings on the Bibb Graves Quad.

Welcome-Back Quad Buster

The Quad Buster was held Aug. 18, 1999, as a finale to the Welcome Week activities. It was sponsored by Adams Center Union Board. The free event was intended for all TSU students. The Quad Buster was held in order to welcome new students to the campus and old students back, get students involved in school activities, and allow an opportunity for students to mingle and relax before classes started.

Events at the Quad Buster included an obstacle course, rock climbing wall, speed pitch, organizational tables and a BBQ in the Quad. Also, Roots Posse, Cover Girls and Tekneek performed at the Quad Buster.

Emily Walker winds up for the speed pitch.

Proposed Lottery Fails

The state of Alabama was given the chance to have a lottery. The proposed lottery would fund several programs, including prekindergarten education and college scholarships. This issue sparked many debates about what was at stake. Many were concerned that if Alabama had a lottery then it would lead to other forms of gambling. Many were also concerned about how morally wrong it was to have a lottery because it is a form of gambling. Many rallies for and against the lottery were held. Governor Donald Siegelman even visited the Troy State University campus. "Trojan soldiers" for the lottery were seen on campus. Faculty and community members attended. Southern University also held a rally. Governor Siegelman spoke of how the lottery would be patterned after the successful Florida lottery.

On Oct. 12, 1999, however, Siegelman announced that the lottery would not be implemented.

Governor Donald Siegelman holds up a jersey that the Troy State football team presented him.

Many students attend the rally to show their feelings about the lottery.

Singing TSU Away

Troy State has hosted several musical acts during the 1999-2000 academic term. During fall semester, group like the Cover Girls, Grass Roots, the Dennis Edwards' Temptation Revue, Allure and Tekneek. Spring semester brought Vertical Horizon and Angry Salad to the TSU campus.

Students enjoyed all the bands and music groups that visited Troy State. Many were asked by ACUB to come and perform for the students.

The Grass Roots was one of the bands to perform during ACUB's Welcome Back Week.

Tekneek, who opened for Allure, gets involved with the crowd during its performance.

The Sound of the South acted as the backup band to the Dennis Edwards' Temptations Revue.

Angry Salad came to Troy State Spring 2000 and the opening band for Vertical Horizon. Angry Salad was a hit among TSU students.

Vertical Horizon is everything Troy State wants as the group sings its hit song "Everything You Want."

Allure in concert

The Adams Center Union Board does many things for the students of Troy State University. ACUB does different ways to bring entertainment to all students. On Nov. 18, 1999, ACUB brought the music group Allure to the students. Allure consists of four members: Alia Davis, Lalisha McLean, Linnie Belcher and Kissa Mendez.

Many people may know them from their songs "Head Over Heels," "You're Gonna Love Me" and "When You Need Someone." The song "All Cried Out" is what Allure is most remembered by.

ACUB members work hard to prepare the stage for Allure.

Playing in the Dirt

It seems as if every time you turn around, there's some sort of construction taking place. Troy State has become somewhat of a construction site. Many times this can cause students to be frustrated by having to take detours.

Construction workers fix the road in front of Smith Hall.

Construction near Eldridge and Pace Hall and the tennis courts forced some students to take detours around the campus.

Reopening of Shackelford

Shackelford Hall, better known as Shack, has been closed for a few years. It was used to house Army ROTC and serve as a meeting hall for some organizations. Construction on Shack began in fall and should be completed in time for it's reopening. Shackelford Hall's opening has been scheduled for Fall 2000.

Probably one of the oldest buildings on the TSU campus, Shackelford Hall will serve as a dorm/meeting facility. Shack will include one and two person private suites, meeting rooms, sorority rooms, laundry rooms on each floor, fitness center, occupant storage and rentable guest suites.

Construction on Shackelford Hall began Fall 1999. New dorm rooms and meeting rooms will be included.

Shackelford Hall was scheduled to reopen in time for classes Fall 2000.

Defense Training

Troy State has installed a new program: RAD training. RAD stands for Rape Aggression Defense. It was started by the SAVE project. RAD training eventually evolved into a self-defense course that is now offered.

This course is opened to both men and women, although most of the students are women. It teaches how to react when one is being attacked. It even simulates an attack for the student to put to use what he or she has learned.

Melissa Dailey practices an attack move on her partner Courtney Culbertson.

Give a Little Blood

This year, Troy State held two blood drives. The first was during the fall. Troy State was in competition against the Hornets of Alabama State. Troy State donated more pints of blood than Alabama State. The second blood drive was held in the spring during Greek Week. The blood drive was dedicated to Gary Beasley.

Brent Harrison drinks some Coke while giving blood.

Many people decided to help out the Red Cross and Troy State by donating blood.

TSU majorettes Erica Merrill, Holly Kemp, Stephanie Fannin and Erica Holt strike a pose during the halftime performance with the Dennis Edwards' Temptation Revue.

Get Ready!!

On Dec. 4, 1999, Troy State played host to Florida A&M. Everyone knew this was going to be a memorable game. Troy State had its eye on Chattanooga, Tenn., for the Division I-AA Championship. Nothing could make this day better. Or could it?

The Sound of the South knew there was something that could make this game even better: the halftime. Shane Porter, TSU graduate student, knew Troy needed something spectacular. Porter asked the music group the Dennis Edwards' Temptations Revue. He knew them very well and knew that the Revue was just the right thing. Porter recommended to the Revue that they should come do the halftime show with the SOTS. The Revue thought it was a great idea and agreed to play.

The members of the Revue loved Troy. They loved the crowd atmosphere and hospitality of Troy State. The Revue loved the band and playing with the band. They thought it was one of the best performances they had done and would do it again.

The Dennis Edwards' Temptations Revue was started by Dennis Edwards. Edwards started with the original Temptations. He was with them for 25 years. Edwards won the Temptations their first Grammy and the two following Grammys. He has appeared on 30 Temptation albums. Recently, the Temptations split and Edwards went his own way. He decided to form his own revue. Edwards contacted people he knew that had some association with the original Temptations. David Sea, Bernard Gibson, Mike Patillo, Chris Arnold and Dennis Edwards came together and formed the Dennis Edwards' Temptations Revue.

Christmas at Troy State

Troy State University has experienced many firsts in the 1999-2000 academic year. One of these firsts is TSU's first time on semesters instead of quarters. Because of this, TSU also experienced another first: being in school between Thanksgiving and Christmas. SGA thought what would make this first more memorable would be to have Christmas activities during this time.

SGA and ACUB sent out letters to all organizations, fraternities, sororities and groups. These letters encouraged people to help with the decorations for the first TSU Christmas tree. The decorations were simple: a ball ornament. Many responded to the letters and helped spread Christmas spirit all over the campus.

SGA president Micki Sims and ACUB president Lori Clark help Chancellor Hawkins and his wife, Janice, hang an ornament.

Army ROTC members search for the perfect place to hang their ornament.

A Night for Beauty

The Miss TSU pageant is an opportunity for Troy State women to compete for a chance to represent the school. Miss TSU gives women a chance to show off their charm, beauty, style and talents. Many consider it a wonderful experience to just participate.

Miss TSU holds her title for one year. She will also go on to represent the university in the Miss Alabama pageant. All of the women who participated this year would have made a wonderful Miss TSU.

Miss TSU contestants attend a tea at the chancellor's house.

Miss TSU

The title of Miss TSU is an honor to anyone who receives it. This year, Heather Moran was crowned Miss TSU 2000. Moran is a native of Greenville, Ala. She is a sophomore majoring in nursing with a minor in health science. She is a member of Phi Mu sorority, Collegiate Singers and Student Government Association. Moran's platform was SHINE (Staying Healthy Includes Nutrition and Exercise).

Stepping the Night Away

Stu Hicks, a member of Kappa Kappa Psi, brings in the PsiFunk.

Alpha Delta Pi sisters show their support for Black History month by participating in the SGA Step Show.

Stepping is a mixture of traditional African dancing, military marching and contemporary hip-hop music. Stepping is most often performed in talent competitions and has become a popular form of entertainment on college campuses. Stepping has also become a way for fraternities and sororities to express devotion and pride to their organization.

SGA sponsored the annual Black History Step Show on Feb. 16, 2000. Participants included Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Phi Alpha, Kappa Kappa Psi, Omega Psi Phi, Sigma Gamma Rho and Tau Beta Sigma. Alpha Phi Alpha walked away with first place. Second place was taken by Omega Psi Phi. Sigma Gamma Rho placed third and Kappa Kappa Psi placed fourth.

An Altered State of Mind

Frederick Winters came to Troy State for one reason: to put people to sleep. Winters is a hypnotist who travels from coast to coast entertaining many audiences. Winters entertains major corporations, conventions, cruises and schools. Winters has been nominated for the National Associations of Campus Activities Campus Entertainer and Variety Entertainer of the Year.

Winters performed at Troy State on March 9, 2000. Troy State students were able to participate in the show. It was filled with several funny moments, from a girl running around thinking her shoe was a phone to some boys thinking they were kangaroos.

Hypnotist Frederick Winters asks for volunteers from the audience.

These volunteers are hiding from their parents at a XXX-rated movie.

Troy State students think they are at an MTV dance competition. The prize is $100,000.

Jonathan McKenzie is convinced that his shirt is on backward until midnight.

Beyond the Horizon

ACUB sponsored the annual Spring Fling. The theme to this year's Spring Fling was "Beyond the Horizon." ACUB had rock climbing, free food, karaoke, volleyball, giveaways and concerts. Music groups Angry Salad and Vertical Horizon played later that evening.

The rock climbing wall is one of TSU students' favorite activities.

Angry Salad was the opening band for Vertical Horizon.

Many TSU students took advantage of the free food.

H O R I Z O N

V E R T I C A L

Vertical Horizon was started in 1991 by Matt Scannell and Keith Kane. Ed Toth and Sean Hurley were added in 1996 and Vertical Horizon, as we know it today, was born. The group has many musical influences including the Beatles and Peter Gabriel. They try to incorporate everything from jazz to pop into their music.

The band is like a brotherhood. "Sometimes they'll be the last guys you want to see in the morning," drummer Ed Toth said, "but if anyone messes with you they have to come through the other three also." Vertical Horizon's stage presence and music reflects this brotherly love.

Members of Vertical Horizon describe their music as modern rock/pop. They feel as though it is "smart music" as in they pay attention to their lyrics and the meaning behind them. Also, all the members play their own instruments. Matt Scannell is lead vocalist and plays guitar. Keith Kane also lends his voice and play guitar. Sean Hurley is on bass and Ed Toth is the drummer.

Vertical Horizon came to in Troy on April 5, 2000, for a concert. They like coming to Alabama because they feel that the people really enjoy live music and concerts. They also think that people in Alabama tend to go out and support live music more than some places. Birmingham is one of their favorite places to play. Other favorites include Winston-Salem, N.C.; Washington D.C.; and Boston, Vertical Horizon's hometown.

Vertical Horizon will tour its album Everything You Want for another year before working on a new record.

As for the meaning behind the name of the band, there really isn't one. The band said it just sounded good and reflected what they think their music is. "The band, lyrics, music," Ed Toth said, "we want the people have it mean what it means to them."

Vertical Horizon takes time out of its busy schedule to meet and greet winners of local station giveaways.

Guitarist Keith Kane, who has been with Vertical Horizon since 1991, lends his voice to a few songs on the new album.

Lead singer and guitar player Matt Scannell sings "Everything You Want" for all of his TSU fans.

Bass player Sean Hurley said touring has helped keep the band in touch with their fans. It has also helped Vertical Horizon develop as a band, "even if it means being away from home."

Ed Toth, drummer, says that he hopes Vertical Horizon will be around for a very long time.

Homegoing King

Homegoing King is a chance for the male students to shine and represent TSU. Candidates are sponsored by organizations, fraternities, sororities or groups. Then the student body votes on them. Homegoing King is done as a parody of Homecoming Queen.

This year's Homegoing King was Shawn Bishop. Bishop was sponsored by Chi Omega. He is a member of Pi Kappa Phi. The sophomore from Foley, Ala., is majoring in marketing. This was Bishop's second try. He was on the Homegoing Court last year.

Other members on the Homegoing Court included Brandon Berrey, sponsored by Kappa Delta, and Daniel Clem, who was sponsored by Sigma Chi. HYPER sponsored Jon Fillingin. Donnie Pemberton, sponsored by FarmHouse, was also a member of the Homegoing Court. Phi Mu sponsored Brian Sewell. Jacob Stutzman, sponsored by Alpha Delta Pi; David Nelson, sponsored by Alpha Gamma Delta; and Michael Twyford, sponsored by Delta Chi, were also on the court.

Some students like Ray Blair opt to spend their time between classes working out in the Trojan Fitness Center.

Between Classes

Most TSU students spend their day in classes. Students also spend time during the day relaxing between classes. Whether it's a 10 minute break or an hour break, students can be found all over campus taking a break. Between classes, one can find students using their technology fee by checking e-mail. Some students relax in the swings all around campus. Students can even be found working out in the gym. TSU students always manage to relax and have fun between classes.

Katie Colomba, Jeff Hamer, Heath Kirby and Drew Ramsey are just a few of the students who chose to sit outside the Adams Center between classes.

Beauty Around Us

Troy State is considered by many to be a very beautiful campus. From the architecture to the scenery to the people, Troy State possesses a certain aura. This feeling is what attracts many students to Troy State.

During the winter is a good time to catch some of the beauty of Troy State frozen in time.

The many different types of students who attend Troy State add a sense of beauty to the campus.

The architectural style that many buildings possess adds to the beauty of the campus.

Honors Convocation

Honors Convocation was held April 24, 2000. It was a time to celebrate the outstanding achievements of Troy State students. Many awards were given out in honor of the student's academic excellence. It was also a time to recognize students who have gained membership into several honor societies.

Graduation

Many students see graduation as a time for new beginnings. Some see it as a chance to make it in the "real world." Graduation is also a time for students to stand proud of their accomplishments and honors.

Over 500 students received their degrees from Troy State in the spring. Alabama Attorney General William H. Pryor Jr. addressed the graduating class at the spring commencement ceremony.

The Troy State volleyball team had a frustrating year due to the small margin of victory for numerous opponents. Head Coach Ginger Lowe led the volleyball team to an overall record of 10-23, with a conference record of 4-5. Although the Troy State volleyball team did make the TAAC Championship Tournament, it fell short of their goal when it lost 3-0 to Florida Atlantic, which went on to win the TAAC tournament and go to the NCAA championships. Sophomore Erika VanHootehem made second-team All Conference in the TAAC, while junior Emily Larson was awarded Honorable Mention. The Troy State University football squad twice held 14-point leads in the fourth quarter before prevailing 31-24 over I-A member Cincinnati before 16,091 fans in Nippert Stadium on the UC campus. The win was the fourth in the 1990s over a I-A opponent for TSU. The Trojans entered the Crampton Bowl in Montgomery on a high coming off a big win earlier. Sixty hard fought minutes later, fourth-ranked TSU escaped with a 27-20 win over rival Alabama State. "We knew it would be a tough game," said Head Coach Larry Blakeney. "This is a tough game year in, year out, and we knew it would take 60 minutes to win it." The now third-ranked Troy State football team stormed back after a slow start to claim a 41-24 win over 17th -ranked South Florida at Richard M. Scrushy Field. TSU won in large part due to the play of sophomore linebacker Jimmy McClain. The next week TSU again won despite starting slowly cruising to the 48-31 win over Middle Tennessee. The Trojans spoiled the Blue Raiders homecoming with a couple of outstanding performances. Senior linebacker Anthony Rabb set a school record for tackles with 23. He got help from senior DT Al Lucas who recorded 14 tackles with three for a loss and a sack. Sloppy was the word at Richard M. Scrushy Field next week. Playing much of the game in a driving rainstorm, the Troy State football team made its own luck in securing a 24-21 win over Northwestern State.

Second-ranked Troy State entered as the homecoming opponent for the Bobcats of Southwest Texas. The Trojans used timely plays to secure the 24-17 win. The win placed TSU as the nations top-ranked team. No. 1 Troy State got serious from the start in its 41-16 Homecoming win over Sam Houston State. Junior fullback Thad Buttone recorded four touchdowns, three rushing and one receiving. He became the 12th Trojan all-time to register four TDs in a game. Junior free safety Chris Archie tied the school record for interceptions in a game with three picks. Top-ranked TSU muscled up with a punishing defense and overcame a sloppy field and rainy night to post a 20-0 win over Southland Football League foe Nicholls State at John L. Guidry Stadium. Junior punter Matt Allen launched an 81-yard punt in the third quarter, which set a new school record. TSU made a statement the next week with a 27-7 win over Stephen F. Austin, which entered the game leading the Trojans by a half-game in the SFL. The 19th-ranked Lumberjacks managed just seven first downs and 143 yards. Perhaps even more impressive was Troy State's ability to maintain possession of the ball, allowing Stephen F. Austin just 37 total offensive plays and 14:27 possession time. The 45:33 Troy State held the ball set another school record.

Six turnovers and a hard-playing group of McNeese State Cowboys doomed the top-ranked Trojans to a 24-7 loss at Cowboy Stadium. It was the first regular season loss since the loss to McNeese State at Scrushy Field last season. TSU lost four of five fumbles on the day and threw two interceptions on the evening. The offense managed just 206 yards, while the defense allowed 303. Troy State quarterback Brock Nutter completed 11 of 19 passes for 185 yards and two touchdowns to lead the Trojans past Jacksonville State 35-16 in the "Battle For The Ol' School Bell" at Scrushy Field. With the win the Trojans earned a share of the SFL title and the league's automatic bid to the playoffs. The win also marked the fifth consecutive in the series with the Gamecocks and the 10th win in the post 13 meetings. Troy State quarterback Brock Nutter completed 13-of-21 passes for 189 yards, and defensive lineman Al Lucas rushed for two short-yardage touchdowns, to propel fifth-seeded Troy State past James Madison 27-7 in a Division I-AA playoff game at Scrushy Field. TSU rushed for 187 yards and threw for 189. The Troy State football team ran out of magic by committing three costly turnovers and by giving up a pair of big-play touchdowns in their quarterfinal NCAA I-AA playoff game with Florida A&M. The Trojans could never recover as they fell 17-10 to the Rattlers at Scrushy Field. The Rattlers rolled up 430 yards total offense against Troy State. The Trojans could manage only 190 total yards.

Giving Back

Fraternities and sororities are often stereotyped with the Animal House type behavior made famous by the 1970s John Belushi classic movie. However, greeks do more than just party. Every social greek organization is heavily involved in philanthropic work. Many hours are spent doing such things as building houses with Habitat for Humanity to taking handicapped children to the fair. Thousands of dollars are also raised. This work often goes unnoticed by most but the people who are helped they are greatly appreciative.

Phi Mu holds it's annual Grand Slam softball tournament every spring with the proceeds benefitting the Children's Miracle Network.

FarmHouse's Mud
Volleyball tournament is held every year on Sorority Hill. Not only is it a lot of fun, but it is also for a great cause.

Jeff Hamer gets a wet sponge in the face during Pi Kappa Phi's PUSH Carnival for handicapped children.

Throughout the year many greeks were actively involved in Pike County's Habitat for Humanity project.

To The Community

Greeks Really

Every greek organization has its own philanthropy that it sponsors each year. Each organization spends a lot of time and puts a lot of effort into helping out their particular philanthropy as well as everyone else's. The entire greek system also supports the other philanthropies around town.

Together the greek system really is something that Troy State University can be very proud of.

Jaimie Holley and Ray Hackett help take off a huge catfish for a handicapped man at the catfish roundup charity event.

The sisters of Alpha Gamma Delta entertain the trick-or-treaters at Sorority Hill on Halloween.

Delta Chi brothers clean up Collegedale Street.

Chi Omega sister Katy Peel takes a local youth trick-or treating.

During Greek Week the greek system sponsors a blood drive that benefits many people.

Letter from Chancellor Jack Hawkins Jr.

The 1999-2000 year at Troy State University is best described as the continuation of a common theme of progress and change. In the midst of this progress and change, however, is a reverence for Trojan tradition with which all students can identify.

From our students' perspectives, the opening of the Trojan Express and Trojan Fitness Center in the Adams Student Center was perhaps the most noticeable - and appreciated - change. The beautiful "new" Adams Center is another example of our commitment to serving students.

This year also saw the renovation of our campus' oldest building. Shackelford Hall has been transformed into a modern residence facility that retains the charm of days gone by in Troy. In that same vein, the renovation of Smith Hall to include the magnificent new Claudia Crosby Theater is another new gem in a classic setting.

The changes Troy State University has made over the past five years have been the product of a shared vision. Our goal has been, and will continue to be, to ensure that our students cherish their years at Troy State University. We will grow, add academic programs and build facilities, but our students will always come first.

Sincerely,

Jack Hawkins Jr., Ph.D.

Chancellor Hawkins
greet family members at the reception held after graduation.

Chancellor Hawkins interacts with the kids while they have dessert.

Dr. Hawkins participates in the torchlight parade.

Chancellor Hawkins
and his family: wife,
Janice Hawkins; daughters, Kelly and Katie Hawkins, at his Gala Ball.

Dr. Hawkins congratulates students for their great accomplishments
after the graduation ceremony.

Chancellor and Mrs. Hawkins wait to see all of the creative Home coming floats.

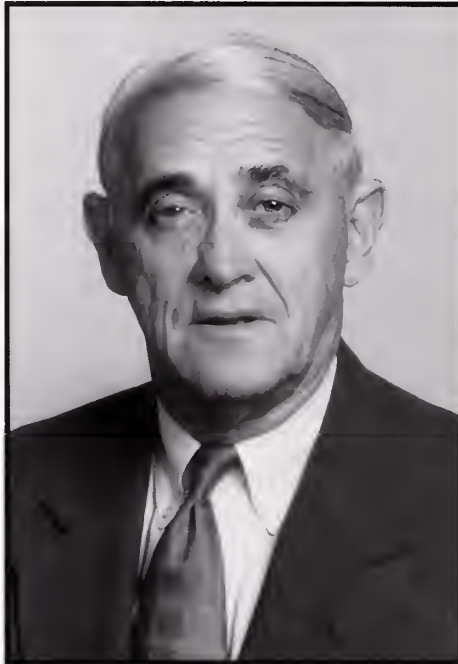

Dr. Hawkins concentrates as he is being interviewed by WAKA.
